Comments	In the proposed PFC work plan (agenda #17), it states that on August 1st, the Standing Oversight Committee of the PFC, which is responsible for reviewing the OPD's investigation of civilian complaints, will replace Steve Floren with Joe Young. This means that 50% of the members of the SOC will be former OPD employees. How does this happen? This is not a decision that fosters greater trust in the community but raises concerns about conflicts of interest, institutional bias and perceived bias. We cannot have 50% of the oversight board be ex-OPD employees if we are truly about foster trust in the community as well as greater transparency and accountability in the OPD.
